About Us

EMN Ireland is the Irish National Contact Point of the European Migration Network and is part of the Economic and Social Research Institute (ESRI).

The European Migration Network (EMN) is a network of experts that provides up-to-date, objective, reliable and comparable policy-relevant information on migration and international protection in the European Union, its Member States, as well as Observer Countries.

Our Work

All reports and resources available at www.emn.ie

What we do

Conduct research on migration and international protection related topics and policy monitoring reports on Ireland.

Contribute to EU-level research on migration and international protection related topics.

Provide Irish contributions to policy relevant queries through EMN's Adhoc Query tool.

Summarise Irish and European case law and legislation.

Collaborate with and organise events and meetings of national level experts in Ireland.

Contribute to and provide Irish translations for EMN Asylum and Migration Glossary.

Curate a research library of recent and relevant publications for the Irish context.

Disseminate EU-level and national research to various stakeholders, from policy makers to the general public.
